

Louis Friedman, DO, FACP

Dr. Louis Friedman is a graduate of the Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine. He trained in internal medicine at the Pennsylvania Hospital where he also served as Chief Medical Resident. He is board certified in internal medicine and is a fellow in the American College of Physicians.

Since 2001 he has been in private practice at Woodbridge Medical Associates, Woodbridge, New Jersey. He serves as Treasurer of the New Jersey Chapter of the American College of Physicians and sits on their Governors Council. Prior to joining this practice, Dr. Friedman practiced and taught residents and students at The Pennsylvania Hospital in Philadelphia.

His interests are diabetes and lipid management, cardiac risk factor modification as well as arthritis and joint disease management. Dr. Friedman is a qualified civil surgeon and certified medical examiner for the Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration.